Corona hits smear job on SC

CJ defends decisions, says they're just doing their constitutional duty

By Mike Chen
 (UPI) — Justice Corona said he "regretted" the court's decision to deny a writ of habeas corpus to a former senator, saying he was just doing his constitutional duty. Corona, speaking to a group of reporters, said he was "not a politician" and was "not interested in politics."

Corona, 57, is a former member of the Philippine House of Representatives. He was elected to the House in 1998 and served until 2001. He was then elected to the Senate in 2001 and served until 2004. He was then elected to the House again in 2004 and served until 2007. He was then elected to the Senate again in 2007 and served until 2010. are of varying degrees of complexity. The following are some of the more common types of projects:

- Construction projects: These include projects such as building a new house, a bridge, or a road.
- Manufacturing projects: These include projects such as producing a new product or improving an existing one.
- Information technology projects: These include projects such as developing a new software application or upgrading an existing system.
- Marketing projects: These include projects such as launching a new product or promoting an existing one.
- Human resources projects: These include projects such as recruiting new employees or training existing ones.

Each of these projects has its own set of challenges and risks. However, by understanding the common types of projects, you can better prepare yourself for the challenges and risks that may arise during the project lifecycle.

2.2. Project lifecycle

The project lifecycle is the process of managing a project from start to finish. It typically consists of the following phases:

1. Initiation: This is the phase where the project is first identified and approved. It involves defining the project's purpose, scope, and objectives.
2. Planning: This is the phase where the project's details are planned out. It involves creating a project plan, identifying resources, and setting a timeline.
3. Execution: This is the phase where the project is actually carried out. It involves managing the project's progress, communicating with stakeholders, and resolving any issues that arise.
4. Closing: This is the phase where the project is completed and the results are evaluated. It involves finalizing the project, documenting the results, and providing a final report.

Understanding the project lifecycle is essential for managing a project effectively. By following the phases of the project lifecycle, you can ensure that your project is completed on time, within budget, and to the satisfaction of your stakeholders.

2.3. Project management tools

Project management tools are software applications that help you manage your projects more effectively. They typically provide features such as task tracking, resource management, and communication tools. Some of the most popular project management tools include:

- Microsoft Project: A powerful project management tool that allows you to create detailed project plans, track progress, and manage resources.
- Asana: A simple and intuitive project management tool that allows you to create tasks, assign them to team members, and track progress.
- Trello: A visual project management tool that allows you to create boards, lists, and cards to organize your work.
- Jira: A project management tool specifically designed for software development teams.

Choosing the right project management tool for your needs is essential for managing your projects effectively. Consider factors such as the complexity of your projects, the number of team members, and your budget when making your choice.

2.4. Project management best practices

Project management best practices are guidelines that help you manage your projects more effectively. Some of the most common best practices include:

- Define the project's purpose and objectives: Clearly define the project's purpose and objectives from the start.
- Create a project plan: Create a detailed project plan that outlines the project's scope, timeline, and resources.
- Communicate effectively: Communicate regularly with stakeholders and team members to ensure everyone is on the same page.
- Manage risks: Identify potential risks early on and develop a plan to mitigate them.
- Track progress: Regularly track the project's progress and adjust the plan as needed.
- Close the project: Once the project is completed, close it properly and document the results.

Following these best practices can help you manage your projects more effectively and increase the chances of success.

Naia to get new navigational gear

By J. R. Reyes
PHILIPPINE STAR
 MANILA, Jan. 16 (PNS) — The Philippine Navy is set to receive a new batch of navigational equipment for its fleet of ships, including the newly acquired Naia-class frigates. The equipment, which includes electronic warfare systems and radar, is expected to be delivered by the end of the year. The Navy's Chief of Staff, Admiral Jose Almonte, said that the new gear will significantly enhance the fleet's operational capabilities and readiness for maritime security operations in the South China Sea and other strategic areas.

The equipment is part of a larger procurement program aimed at modernizing the Philippine Navy's fleet. The program includes the acquisition of new frigates, submarines, and other vessels. The Navy is also investing in the development of new technologies and systems to improve its overall performance and efficiency.

The new navigational gear is expected to be a game-changer for the Philippine Navy. It will allow the fleet to operate more effectively in complex maritime environments and provide better protection for the country's territorial waters. The equipment is also expected to improve the Navy's ability to respond to various threats and challenges in the region.

The Navy's Chief of Staff, Admiral Jose Almonte, said that the new gear will significantly enhance the fleet's operational capabilities and readiness for maritime security operations in the South China Sea and other strategic areas. He also said that the Navy is committed to maintaining a strong and capable fleet to ensure the country's maritime security and sovereignty.

Congressional body on Cha-cha proposed

By Linda P. U. Miller

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — A House panel on Tuesday proposed a bill that would create a new congressional body to oversee the federal government's response to the growing number of people who are being deported from the United States. The bill, which is part of a larger package of immigration reform legislation, would create a new committee within the House of Representatives to oversee the federal government's response to the growing number of people who are being deported from the United States. ## Bad rice

The rice industry in the Philippines is a complex one, involving many stakeholders and a long history of government intervention. The industry is characterized by a high degree of volatility, with prices fluctuating significantly over time. This volatility is often attributed to a combination of factors, including weather conditions, global market trends, and government policies.

Editorial

The rice industry is a critical component of the Philippine economy, providing a staple food for the majority of the population. It is also a major source of income for many farmers and agribusinesses. However, the industry has long been plagued by a series of challenges, including low productivity, high costs, and a lack of access to modern technology and infrastructure.

One of the most significant challenges facing the rice industry is the issue of rice quality. For many years, the Philippines has been known for producing low-quality rice, which has led to a loss of market share and a decline in farmer income. This is often attributed to a lack of investment in research and development, as well as a lack of government support for quality improvement initiatives.

Another major challenge is the issue of rice prices. The price of rice has fluctuated wildly over the years, with farmers often receiving very low prices for their harvest. This is often attributed to a combination of factors, including a lack of market power, a lack of access to modern marketing channels, and a lack of government support for price stabilization efforts.

Despite these challenges, the rice industry remains a vital part of the Philippine economy. It is a source of pride for many Filipinos, and it is a sector that has the potential to play a major role in the country's economic development. However, in order to realize this potential, the industry must overcome the challenges it faces and work to improve its productivity, quality, and market access.

The government has a key role to play in this process. It must invest in research and development to improve rice productivity and quality. It must also provide support for farmers, including access to modern technology and infrastructure, and it must work to stabilize rice prices. Only through these efforts can the rice industry be transformed into a more competitive and sustainable sector.

In conclusion, the rice industry in the Philippines is a complex and challenging one. It is a sector that has the potential to play a major role in the country's economic development, but it must first overcome the challenges it faces. The government has a key role to play in this process, and it must work to improve the industry's productivity, quality, and market access.

Eaten to indignities at Kapitan sa Dugang

By J. M. L.

The Kapitan sa Dugang, a traditional Filipino festival, is a time of great celebration and joy for the people of the Philippines. It is a festival that has been celebrated for centuries, and it is a festival that has become an important part of the country's cultural heritage. However, in recent years, the festival has become a source of indignity for many of the people who participate in it. This is due to a number of factors, including the commercialization of the festival, the lack of government support, and the exploitation of the festival by a small group of people.

The commercialization of the festival is one of the most significant factors contributing to the indignity. In recent years, the festival has become a major source of income for a small group of people, who have used their position to exploit the festival for their own gain. This has led to a loss of the festival's traditional values and a decline in the quality of the festival. The people who participate in the festival are often treated as mere spectators, rather than as active participants in the festival.

The lack of government support is another major factor contributing to the indignity. The government has failed to provide the festival with the resources it needs to maintain its traditional values and to ensure that it is a source of pride for the people of the Philippines. This has led to a decline in the quality of the festival and a loss of the festival's cultural significance.

The exploitation of the festival by a small group of people is also a major factor contributing to the indignity. These people have used their position to exploit the festival for their own gain, and they have treated the people who participate in the festival as mere tools for their own ends. This has led to a loss of the festival's traditional values and a decline in the quality of the festival.

In conclusion, the Kapitan sa Dugang is a festival that has become a source of indignity for many of the people who participate in it. This is due to a number of factors, including the commercialization of the festival, the lack of government support, and the exploitation of the festival by a small group of people. It is time for the government and the people of the Philippines to take action to restore the festival to its traditional values and to ensure that it is a source of pride for the people of the Philippines.

Edsa 2 as a scripted event

By J. M. L.

Edsa 2, the second EDSA Revolution, is a significant event in the history of the Philippines. It is a event that has been celebrated for years, and it is a event that has become an important part of the country's cultural heritage. However, in recent years, the event has become a source of controversy and debate. This is due to a number of factors, including the lack of government support, the exploitation of the event by a small group of people, and the lack of transparency in the event's organization.

The lack of government support is one of the most significant factors contributing to the controversy. The government has failed to provide the event with the resources it needs to maintain its traditional values and to ensure that it is a source of pride for the people of the Philippines. This has led to a decline in the quality of the event and a loss of the event's cultural significance.

The exploitation of the event by a small group of people is another major factor contributing to the controversy. These people have used their position to exploit the event for their own gain, and they have treated the people who participate in the event as mere tools for their own ends. This has led to a loss of the event's traditional values and a decline in the quality of the event.

The lack of transparency in the event's organization is also a major factor contributing to the controversy. The event's organizers have failed to provide the public with the information it needs to make informed decisions about the event. This has led to a loss of trust in the event's organizers and a decline in the event's credibility.

In conclusion, Edsa 2 is a significant event in the history of the Philippines. It is a event that has become a source of controversy and debate. # PNP advice: How to reduce risk of being victimized by car thieves

By Dennis Pabon-Simpson

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine National Police (PNP) has issued advice on how to reduce the risk of being victimized by car thieves. The PNP said that carjacking is a common crime in the Philippines, and that victims should take steps to protect themselves and their vehicles. The PNP advised that victims should avoid driving in high-risk areas, and that they should always have a valid driver's license and vehicle registration. The PNP also advised that victims should always wear their seatbelts, and that they should always have a spare tire and a first aid kit in their vehicles.

Confident Gilas squad starts Dubai campaign today

By Juan Francisco
MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine national basketball team, Gilas, is confident of a strong performance in the upcoming FIBA Asia Cup tournament in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, starting today. Head coach Yeng Guiao expressed optimism about the team's chances, citing their recent success in the 2009 FIBA Asia Cup and their improved play since the 2010 FIBA World Cup. The team, featuring players like James Yap, Alvin Patrimonio, and Jayson Castro, is looking to defend their title and establish themselves as a regional power. The tournament will feature 16 teams from across Asia, with the Philippines competing in Group A. The first games are scheduled for today, with the Philippines facing off against the Chinese Taipei national team.

Tackling the new age the old-fashioned way

By Dan T. Hernandez

It's a common sight in the business world: a man in a suit and tie, standing in a line at a bank counter, waiting for a teller to serve him. This is the old-fashioned way of doing business, and it's still going strong in the new age of technology.

Engaged couples are paying to make like models for a day

With the wedding season in full swing, many couples are looking for ways to make their special day even more memorable. One popular trend is for engaged couples to hire professional photographers to capture their love story in a variety of settings, from formal portraits to candid shots in their favorite spots.

For many couples, the wedding is a once-in-a-lifetime event, and they want to make sure every moment is captured perfectly. This often means investing in professional photography services that offer a range of packages to suit different budgets and preferences.

CHOOSE YOUR ROCK SHOW

PUTTING a classic rock band on a television screen is never going to be the same as watching them live. But if you're looking for a way to relive the glory days of rock, here are five of the best shows to watch.

These Players Are Players, Ryan Reynolds
 BY JEFF LABRECQUE/ABC NEWS

With Green, the Rock Channel's latest show, the network is taking a look at the lives of the band's members. Reynolds, who played the lead role in the film, is the only one of the band's members who is still alive. Reynolds, who played the lead role in the film, is the only one of the band's members who is still alive.

length of stay
The length of stay (LOS) is the number of days a patient stays in the hospital. It is an important indicator of the quality of care and the cost of treatment. LOS is usually measured in days, but can also be measured in hours or minutes. LOS is typically higher for patients who are admitted to the hospital for a serious condition, and lower for patients who are admitted for a minor condition. LOS is also higher for patients who are discharged to a nursing home or long-term care facility, and lower for patients who are discharged to their own homes.

The next series illustrates the new application of the model to the two-component system shown in Fig. 1. The model is applied to the two-component system by using the same parameters as in the one-component system. The results are shown in Fig. 2.
